

The Hutton Honors College presents the 2012 Annual IUB Undergraduate
Symposium and Research Fair
Saturday, April 14th, 9:00-5:00

Deadline for abstracts & proposals March 1st, 2012

The Hutton Honors College invites proposals and abstracts for our annual symposium and research fair. The symposium is to be held on Saturday, April 14th, in the Hutton Honors College building (811 East 7th Street) from 9-5. Students who choose to present papers at the symposium will be asked to speak for ten minutes on their work, with a five minute Q&A to follow. Each presenter will be included on a panel of students working in a similar field of study. Most years the topics included sociology, international issues, science, psychology, health care, arts and humanities, and often special topics. Every year the topics vary somewhat according to the abstracts submitted. A schedule of sessions will be forthcoming in March. The poster fair will also be held on Saturday, April 14th. Students are invited to present both a paper and/or poster; presentations of both a paper and poster are welcome. All IU undergraduates are invited to participate in these two events, and all IU faculty and students will be invited to attend. The Hutton Honors College will hold workshops for students who would like to know more about paper or poster presentations.

Whether you choose to present a paper at the symposium or a poster at the fair, or would like to participate in both events, we welcome one page abstracts by March 1st.

If you choose to participate in both events, you will just submit one abstract. Be sure you have a faculty mentor for your project, as they will be asked to sign off on your abstract.

Applications and abstracts should be submitted as a Word document via email to hhcrs@indiana.edu by March 1st. You must submit a separate email for each document.

The symposium and fair are open to all disciplines, including (but not limited to): visual and performing arts, humanities, social and behavioral sciences, public affairs, natural and physical sciences, mathematics, business and economics, education, and nursing. This is a great opportunity to let others see the valuable work you have accomplished during the past year, and to see what other students in a variety of fields are exploring here at IU. It is also a great chance for you to perfect your presentation skills and receive valuable feedback from faculty and interested colleagues. Don't miss this opportunity for professional experience!

We look forward to hearing from you, and more importantly, to seeing the results of your efforts!

Sincerely,

Lynn Cochran
