

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES!

It has been brought to the attention of the Emeriti House Outreach Committee that a number of emeriti faculty are interested in volunteering their efforts and expertise to organizations and agencies, nonprofit and otherwise. We think that this is a very laudable gesture, and to assist in searching for volunteer opportunities, the following list has been compiled. The list is intended for informational purposes only. Emeriti who desire to learn more about any particular organization or agency prior to volunteering should contact the person or website identified on the list. Emeriti who choose to become volunteers for any of the organizations and agencies on the Emeriti House list do so with the understanding that their services and related activities are carried out independent of the Emeriti House and Indiana University with respect to insurance coverage and liability.

The Emeriti House Volunteer Opportunity list will be updated on a regular basis, and we invite emeriti to recommend additional organizations for inclusion. As a general rule, Emeriti House reserves the right accept or reject recommendations. An example of a category that will not be listed are those organizations that are of a political advocacy nature.

See below for a current listing.
