

Note on Citations

In reference citations, page numbers are specified whenever possible. In some cases page numbers are not specified because my copy of the cited piece of literature is electronic and does not contain page numbers. This situation is most applicable to articles originally published in the print edition of Zhongguo Lüshi (Chinese Lawyer), the official journal of the All-China Lawyers Association. Most articles published in this journal since 2001 are also available electronically on the Association's official website:
