Dear HHC Students:

We would like to call your attention to a relatively new source of funding for Hutton Honors College Students: The Hutton Financial Emergency Fund.

This fund has been made available thanks to a gift from an anonymous donor. The donor is eager to help HHC students who encounter financial stress that might otherwise jeopardize their ability to stay enrolled at IU.

Possible eligible uses of the fund include health care, child care, transportation, unexpected costs related to studies, housing or other relevant expenses that exceed the applicant’s available, personal funds. (Applicants must demonstrate that the financial need is a one time, unexpected expense rather than a chronic financial need.) Eligibility for the fund and other information are found here:

http://www.indiana.edu/~iubhonor/hds/feg.php

We hope the Hutton Financial Emergency Fund will prove a stress-reliever for HHC students who encounter sudden financial crises – and that awards from the fund will transform these crises into temporary and solvable problems.

Sincerely,

Andrea Ciccarelli
Dean, Hutton Honors College
Professor of Italian Studies