

South Slavic Movie Night

Wednesday, October 26th, 7pm @ BH 147

Ko to tamo peva?

(Who's singing over there?)

Storyline

On April 5, 1941, men on a country road board Krstić's bus for Belgrade: two Gypsies who occasionally sing about misery, an aging war vet, a Nazi sympathizer, a dapper singer, a consumptive, and a man with a shotgun. Krstić is a world-weary cynic, out for a buck; the driver is his son, the simple, cheerful Miško. En route they pick up a priest and young newlyweds going to the seaside. Along the way, mis-adventure strikes: a flat tire, a rickety bridge, a farmer who's plowed the road, a funeral, two feuding families, an army detail, and a lost wallet slow the bus and expose rifts among the travelers. On April 6, amid rumors of war, they reach Belgrade...