

Medieval Studies Institute Indiana University

The Medieval Studies Institute is a center for the study of medieval cultures from the fifth to the fifteenth centuries. Participating faculty are drawn from twenty academic departments at Indiana University.

The Medieval Studies Institute offers a minor (15 hours) and an undergraduate certificate (24 hours) to be completed from the wide range of medieval courses available every semester at IU. Both the minor and the certificate enable students to take courses in various departments so that they can experience a variety of approaches and topics while expanding their knowledge of the Middle Ages.

Courses can be found at <http://www.indiana.edu/~medieval/courses.shtml>

For more information, contact our us at:
Medieval Studies Institute
650 Ballantine Hall
Bloomington, IN 47405-6624
(812)855-8201
mest@indiana.edu
www.indiana.edu/~medieval

For the minor: Students must complete 15 credit hours from at least three departments. At least two courses must be at the 300 level or above, and no more than one course can be at the 100 level.

For the certificate: Students must complete a minimum of 24 hours from at least three departments, including:

- 6 credit hours of language above the 100 level in Latin, Greek, Arabic, Hebrew, or Persian
- A historical survey (or chronologically organized study)
- 15 credit hours of electives, chosen either from the Institute offerings or medieval courses in other departments
- At least two courses must be at the 300 level or above, and no more than one course can be at the 100 level.