

WORLD AREA AND COUNTRY-SPECIFIC CENTERS

Indiana University is in the top tier of universities maintaining U.S. Department of Education Title VI international centers in the United States. Currently there are seven National Resource Centers, one Language Resource Center, one Center for International Business Education and Research, and an undergraduate International Studies in Foreign Language grant. IU also has a number of other international centers and programs, as listed below.

LIST OF CENTERS

African Studies Program*	East Asian Studies Center*
Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies*	Center for the Languages of the Central Asia Region*
Center for the Study of Global Change*	India Studies
European Union Center of Excellence	Inner Asian and Uralic National Resource Center*
Center for International Business Education and Research*	Mathers Museum of World Cultures
Center for Social Studies and International Education	Russian and East European Institute*
Center for the Study of Institutions, Population, and Environmental Change	Middle Eastern and Islamic Studies Program
Center on Southeast Asia	Polish Studies Center
	West European Studies National Resource Center*

* Center has received Title VI funding from the Department of Education for 2006–2010.