

Media hits:

Vicky Meretsky was featured in a news release a research collaboration with Russia's Tyumen State University. Meretsky is one of the principal investigators.

- IU-Russian partnership focuses on environmental studies, language
IU News Release, Oct. 5, 2009

Dean Graham announced the formation of the Dean's Council, as noted in this IU News Release.

- New SPEA Dean's Advisory Council to help guide school
IU News Release, Oct. 5, 2009

Monika Herzig's most recent CD, "Peace on Earth," is reviewed in the first link from JazzReview.com. The album was also reviewed on LAJazz.com.

- Monika Herzig: Ringing in the Holidays Herzig Style
Jazz Review, October 2009

Les Lenkowsky talked to Bloomberg.com for an article about the price of attaching donor names to buildings.

- Getting Your Name on Building Gets Cheaper as Non-Profits Compete
Bloomberg.com, October 9, 2009

Sergio Fernandez was quoted in an article about the effect of leasing parking meters and selling real estate on the city of Indianapolis.

- Parking meters may help plug Indy's money gap
The Indianapolis Star, October 11, 2009

Kurt Zorn was quoted in an editorial in the Fort Wayne Journal Gazette about tax caps and public services.

- Tax caps threaten services
Fort Wayne Journal Gazette, October 11, 2009

Kurt Zorn was named as co-chair of the 19-member Bloomington Campus Safety Task Force and spoke to the IDS about the committee's role on campus.

- Traffic concerns plague IU's campus through the years
The Indiana Daily Student, October 12, 2009

Elinor Ostrom was featured in local, national and international media after she received the Nobel Peace Prize in Economics. Below are just a few links.

- Governing the Commons
Forbes.com, October 12, 2009
- A Nobel for Practical Economics
The Wall Street Journal, October 12, 2009
- Two Americans Are Awarded Nobel in Economics
The New York Times, October 12, 2009

- Real-World Research Wins Nobel Prize in Economics
The Washington Post, October 12, 2009

John Mikesell was quoted in an article in the Evansville Courier-Press about the difficulty of forecasting revenue in the current economy.

- Pessimism: the big variable in state's budget planning
Evansville Courier-Press, October 13, 2009

The Center for Philanthropy was featured in a remarkable 6 out of 14 articles in USA Today's special philanthropy section. Patrick Rooney, Tim Seiler, Les Lenkowsky and Melissa Brown were all featured.

- Fundraisers weather extreme highs and lows
His sister's keeper taps into \$44,000
TV: It's prime time for volunteerism
One Brick builds service-oriented relationships
Poll: In bad times, folks find ways to help
USAToday.com, October 13, 2009

The Indianapolis Star ran an article about urban renewal projects in Indianapolis featuring David Reingold.

- Urban Renewal Project focuses on Sustainability
The Indianapolis Star, October 15, 2009

Bill Jones (and his research) was the topic of a feature article in the Fall 2009 issue of IU's "Research and Creative Activity." The article, "The Art of Lakescaping," can be downloaded from the link below.

- The Art of Lakescaping
IU Research & Creative Activity, Fall 2009

Les Lenkowsky was quoted in Variety.com's "Wilshire and Washington" blog, where he discussed TV's "Service Week."

- TV's Service Week: Suspicions of Socialism
Wilshire and Washington, October 19, 2009

The climate change policy brief co-authored by John Graham and Art Fraas was featured in an IU news release.

- SPEA Policy Brief: U.S. shouldn't go it alone on climate-change measures
IU News Release, October 23, 2009

Les Lenkowsky authored an article in The Chronicle of Philanthropy about Elinor Ostrom's 2009 Nobel Prize.

- Nobel Prize Winner's Work Shines Light on Altruism
The Chronicle of Philanthropy, October 25, 2009

Tavis Smiley's visit to IU for the dedication of the SPEA atrium received coverage from several different news outlets.

- IU to dedicate atrium to Tavis Smiley
Inside Indiana Business, October 26, 2009
- SPEA atrium to be named for Tavis Smiley
The Herald Times, October 28, 2009

- Indiana U. honors Tavis with an Atrium
EURweb, October 26, 2009
- Tavis Smiley talks at SPEA atrium dedication
Indiana Daily Student, October 30, 2009

The Integrated Atmospheric Deposition Network project, led by Ron Hites and Iloro Basu was recently awarded a $5 million grant to continue measuring levels of airborne toxic chemicals being deposited in the Great Lakes.

- IU awarded \$5 million for Great Lakes environment project
IU News Release, October 26, 2009
- Grant to help IU continue Great Lakes Study
IU News Release, October 26, 2009

Sheila Kennedy's most recent October editorial in the Indianapolis Star covered America's "morphing media." Her previous October editorial was about the 14th annual Spirit and Place Festival. Additionally, Kennedy's September editorial on the Voter ID law also generated discussion on several blogs.

- Where is journalism going?
The Indianapolis Star, October 26, 2009
- All Voters are Unequal
Charleston and the Lowcountry News, October 1, 2009
- All Voters are Unequal
Talking Points Memo, October 21, 2009

Clint Oster was featured in an Associated Press article about the government's $11 million air safety research project.

- Scientific panel criticizes government's \$11 million air safety research project as unreliable
San Francisco Examiner, October 28, 2009
- Panel: \$11 million air safety study not worth much
Federal News Radio, October 28, 2009

Nicole Quon was interviewed for an IDS article on partisanship and health care reform.

- Leaving party playbooks behind
The Indiana Daily Student, October 28, 2009
-

Les Lenkowsky authored an article about Irving Kristol's role in transforming American philanthropy in The Journal of the American Enterprise Institute.

- The End of Giving Till it Hurts
The American, October 29, 2009