INTERNAL REVENUE CODE CONTRIBUTION LIMITS

Annual Dollar Limit on Elective Deferrals (IRC §457(b)(2))

Internal Revenue Code (IRC) §457(b)(2) limits the amount of salary deferral contributions (elective deferrals) that can be contributed to the IU Retirement Savings Plan and to all IRC §457(b) plans in which an employee participates in any calendar year. (Please note that elective deferrals made to the IU Tax Deferred Account Plan are not limited by IRC §457(b)(2).)

The annual dollar limit is the lesser of 100 percent of the employee's compensation for the calendar year or the "applicable dollar amount." The "applicable dollar amount" is $17,000.

Please note that Indiana University does not monitor elective deferrals made to any business entity other than Indiana University. Therefore, an employee must self-monitor elective deferrals made to the VA Hospital, IU Health, the IU Foundation, IU Health Physicians, private practice associations, former employers, etc.

Age 50 or Older Catch-up Contributions (IRC §414(v)(2))

For participants who are at least age 50 before the end of the plan year, the current dollar limits on elective deferrals are increased. The additional amount of elective deferrals that are permitted to be made by an eligible participant is the lesser of (i) the participant's compensation for the year reduced by any other elective deferrals of the participant for the year or (ii) the "applicable dollar amount." The applicable dollar amount is $5,500.

Age 50 or older catch-up contributions will not be taken into account in applying the annual dollar limit on elective deferrals (IRC §457(b)(2)).

Age 62, 63, or 64 Catch-Up Contributions (IRC §457(b)(3))

For one or more of the participant's last three taxable years ending before he or she attains age 65, the participant may increase the annual dollar limit on elective deferrals to an amount not exceeding the lesser of: (i) twice the "applicable dollar amount"; or (ii) the "underutilized limitation."

The "underutilized limitation" is equal to the sum of: (i) the annual dollar limit on elective deferrals for the taxable year; plus (ii) the annual dollar limit on elective deferrals (disregarding any catch-up) for any prior taxable year(s) less the elective deferrals made for such year(s).

In determining the "underutilized limitation" for prior years, the plan disregards any IRC §414(v) catch-up contributions, both for calculation of the annual dollar limit on elective deferrals in a prior year and in establishing the amount of elective deferrals made in the prior year.

A participant may not elect to apply the IRC §457(b)(3) catch-up rule more than once, regardless of whether the participant utilizes the catch-up rule in less than all of the three taxable years ending before the participant attains age 65. This restriction on the use of the IRC §457(b)(3) catch-up rule also applies if the participant rejoins the plan or participates in the plan after retirement. It does not prevent more than one election by an employee covered by IRC §457(b) plans of different employers.

The "one-time use" restriction does not prohibit a participant from making an IRC §457(b)(3) catch-up election applicable to each of the three years prior to age 65. This restriction only means a participant who elects to utilize the IRC §457(b)(3) catch-up rule has one three-year period within which to exercise the rule.

Use of Multiple IRC Catch-Up Contribution Provisions Restricted

A participant may not make both an age 50 or older catch-up contribution (IRC §414(v)) and an age 62, 63, or 64 catch-up contribution (IRC §457(b)(3)) to the plan in the same year.
